

Lissa Marshall, Sue Viney, Nilgun Yucel and Leane Flynn know how to dress for themselves.

Changing up your look

ON MOST days Sue Viney would choose her outfit based on the corporate clothing hanging in her wardrobe.

But in transition from working to retirement, she needed some new looks.

“I was used to wearing suits five days a week and now I think ‘what do you wear that is age appropriate and not daggy?’” she said.

Ms Viney said she had plenty of clothes but wanted to find out more about trends.

“It is always good to have someone else to tell you what looks good and doesn’t,” she said

Ms Viney saw a sign about a body shape and styling workshop and decided to sign up.

The Bodyshape Styling

Workshop is hosted by twins Leane Flynn and Lissa Marshall, also known as the Fashionista Sistas.

Ms Flynn, from Canterbury, and Ms Marshall, from Wantirna South, run the workshops for women, who just need a little help in the fashion department.
